

Introduction to Italian Fashion – new class at Cañada College

After years of taking groups to Italy to study Italian Fashion, Ronda Chaney will be teaching this subject virtually in the fall. On Tuesday morning from the comfort of your home, you can learn what makes the clothing from Italy different and why, who are the Italian designers and what is their inspiration. Why does Italy have some of the world's best textiles?

Hear from guest speakers and take virtual trips to fashion museums. You will learn about artisans that have taught their skills to the generations in their family. This is an opportunity to expand your knowledge about an exciting country, its history, culture, and fashions from the past to current day.
